9-12 March 2011, Taipei, Taiwan

Asia Pacific Education: Impacting the World

APAIE 2011 will be hosted by National Taiwan University on its colourful campus, an oasis of tranquility in the heart of springtime Taipei.

AT A GLANCE

● Largest APAIE event – Over 1000 delegates from more than 50 countries
● Two-day conference and exhibition (9 – 10 March)
● Discover the famous Silicon Island: site visits to northern, southern and central Taiwan universities (11 March)
● Largest international education fair in Taiwan – free for all students (12 March)
● A convivial Conference Banquet at National Taiwan University – East Asian delicacies and Taiwan folk culture (9 March)
● A splendid Farewell Party at the top floor of the historical Taipei Grand Hotel – Win Taiwan high tech prizes at the lucky draw (10 March)

Call for Papers

Submit a proposal
The deadline is 15 November 2010. For more information please contact vivientrividic@ntu.edu.tw

Become an exhibitor
A two-day Exhibition (9–10 March) followed by a one-day International Education fair (12 March). For more information please contact apaie2011_ex@elitepco.com.tw

Become a participant
Registration now open on www.apaie.org. Early Bird rates until 15 January 2010. For more information please contact apaie2011_ex@elitepco.com.tw

Become a sponsor
An excellent opportunity to promote your brand. For more information please contact vivientrividic@ntu.edu.tw

Visit www.apaie.org to learn more and register
We look forward to welcoming you in Taipei

About APAIE

A non-profit organisation, the Asia-Pacific Association for International Education (APAIE) sees the betterment of higher education and society as its ultimate goal. APAIE is the largest association of its kind in the Eastern hemisphere.

Taiwan – A gem on the Pacific Rim

Well known for its economic dynamism and technological expertise, Taiwan is home to 23 million inhabitants and to a vibrant high tech sector. With two thirds of its land covered by forests, what Portuguese explorers called Ilha Formosa is also home to unique flora and fauna, making this tropical island a birdwatcher’s paradise and a real natural wonder. Rising to 3952 meters, Yushan is East Asia’s highest mountain.

National Taiwan University is ranked as one of the very best universities in Asia-Pacific. As the most prestigious institution of higher education in Taiwan, NTU is profoundly committed to promoting excellence in education and encouraging ideas and innovation. NTU values the idea of a responsible global citizen in a sustainable world.

What APAIE 2011 offers

● Taiwan’s largest international education fair: 100+ booths across 2200m²
● Exciting site visits – Meet research & education experts across the Silicon Island via High Speed Rail and indulge in cultural tours around some of Taiwan’s most engaging spots
● Scrumptious food and an enchanting Farewell Party at the Grand Hotel overlooking Taipei – on a foothill of the volcanic Yangmingshan National Park, blessed with natural hot-springs and cherry blossoms
● APAIE 2011’s co-occurrence with the Taipei International Flora Expo
● Spring – the best season to experience Taiwan

Also part of your APAIE 2011 experience

● Call for Papers now open – until 15 November 2010
● Exhibitor Registration now open – until capacity is reached
● Early Bird Registration now open – until 15 January 2011

Share your ideas. Get insights. Exchange opportunities.

Also part of your APAIE 2011 experience

● Taiwan’s largest international education fair: 100+ booths across 2200m²
● Exciting site visits – Meet research & education experts across the Silicon Island via High Speed Rail and indulge in cultural tours around some of Taiwan’s most engaging spots
● Scrumptious food and an enchanting Farewell Party at the Grand Hotel overlooking Taipei – on a foothill of the volcanic Yangmingshan National Park, blessed with natural hot-springs and cherry blossoms
● APAIE 2011’s co-occurrence with the Taipei International Flora Expo
● Spring – the best season to experience Taiwan

About APAIE

A non-profit organisation, the Asia-Pacific Association for International Education (APAIE) sees the betterment of higher education and society as its ultimate goal. APAIE is the largest association of its kind in the Eastern hemisphere.

Taiwan – A gem on the Pacific Rim

Well known for its economic dynamism and technological expertise, Taiwan is home to 23 million inhabitants and to a vibrant high tech sector. With two thirds of its land covered by forests, what Portuguese explorers called Ilha Formosa is also home to unique flora and fauna, making this tropical island a birdwatcher’s paradise and a real natural wonder. Rising to 3952 meters, Yushan is East Asia’s highest mountain.

National Taiwan University is ranked as one of the very best universities in Asia-Pacific. As the most prestigious institution of higher education in Taiwan, NTU is profoundly committed to promoting excellence in education and encouraging ideas and innovation. NTU values the idea of a responsible global citizen in a sustainable world.